THE KIND YOU HAVE ALWAYS bought has borne the signature of the Western Chemical Co. of Chicago, Ill., for years. Allow no one to deceive you with counterfeits. Imitations and "just as goods" are but experiments, and endanger the health of children.

What is Laxatine?

LAXATIVE IS NOTHING BUT THE FINEST CASTOR OIL, with its objectionable taste removed by our new process. LAXATIVE is as pleasant to take as honey. Children like it. No trouble to get them to take it. It contains neither opium, morphine, nor other narcotic substances. It relieves everything troubles, cures constipation and flatulency; it assimilates the food, regulates the stomach and bowels, giving healthy and natural sleep.—The Children's Panacea—the Mothers' Friend.

ON EDUCATION

A Reply to Mr. John M. Horner's Article.

Are Hawaiian Children Over-Educated—Industrial School Work—Suggestions.

Editor Advertiser: Mr. John M. Horner, in an article published in the Advertiser a few days ago, criticizes rather sharply the Hawaiian public school system. His strictures divide themselves into two chief heads, viz.: That Hawaiians are given "too much book theory"—whatever that may be;—and that "they are educated away from labor."

No one, doubtless, would assert that our system of instruction is above reproach either in matter or in method. That it is in all respects well adapted to our needs may well be open to question. The entire subject of education is receiving the earnest attention of thinking men the world over. The press teems with utterances, wise and otherwise, of men distinguished in various callings. I do not know, of course, the scope of Mr. Horner's reading on this topic, but his article is a pretty faithful reflection, with local coloring, of Mr. C. P. Huntington's San Francisco address. I hope I may be permitted to agree, in most practical points, with both these eminent gentlemen. We cannot quarrel with those who hold that a useful education must enable its possessor to do more, both for himself and for others, than he could do without it. No one will dissent from the proposition that true education must impart moral force and principle as well as social and intellectual stimulus.

Thus far I may go, in all humility, with Mr. Huntington and Mr. Horner. But at this point our paths seem to diverge. Here, Mr. Horner alleges, the Hawaiian public school system quits the straight and narrow road of practical education and pursues the devious paths of "book-theory."

Now, in my dense ignorance—super-induced, no doubt, by too much "book-theory"—I had supposed that reading, writing and arithmetic, an amiable might constitute the basis of any rational system of education. Nay, I had even dreamed that some definite knowledge concerning the position, people and products of the chief nations of the earth would form a necessary part of education. It had not occurred to me that some systematic instruction in singing and drawing would "educate young Hawaiians away from labor."

This is substantially what is required of the pupils in the public schools. A careful reading of the "Course of Study" issued by the Board of Education will reveal nothing further in the way of "book theory." Does Mr. Horner advise that this meager amount of instruction be reduced? Judging from the tone of Mr. Horner's criticism, he must know of large numbers of Hawaiian youth who are proficient in Greek; whose ordinary conversation is in Latin; and whose discourse hinges upon the calculus and the Lamareckian theory. These and similar subjects might fairly be alleged to constitute something of "book-theory." Will Mr. Horner kindly mention how many Hawaiians of his acquaintance have acquired these branches at the public schools? When we consider that the public school curriculum embraces only the elementary branches of reading, writing, arithmetic and geography, with a little history and music; when we remember that very few Hawaiians remain in school after 15 or 16 years of age, we can readily see how absurd is the statement that the Hawaiians are over-educated.

Had Mr. Horner taken sufficient interest in the subject of industrial education to visit the exhibit of handwork at the Summer School he would hardly have said that the Hawaiians are being educated away from labor. Exactly the reverse is the case; in so far as the Board of Education can deal with the question of industrial training at present. Sewing and other forms of household work for girls; gardening, carpentering, etc., for boys; industry and order for all; these are taught in the public schools concurrently with the three R's.

I shall not dispute the question of fact with Mr. Horner when he says that "an educated Hawaiian abhors physical labor. He wants to be a judge, a lawyer, a policeman. Some profession that does not require physical labor seems to be his ideal." Quite so. As between a judge or a lawyer and a day laborer even a haole might have some choice. And the Hawaiians are not the only aspirants for a position "on the force."

assimilated to us in habits and means of livelihood, so will he draw nearer to us in modes of thought. As the years go by he will be increasingly able to avail himself of the advantages of education. At present it is idle to say that education, of whatever kind, can have the same effect upon the Hawaiian as upon the Caucasian or the Mongolian.

However, let us hope that when Mr. Horner next favors the public with his valuable opinions on Hawaiian education he will at least find out what is taught in the schools and in what manner it is detrimental to the Hawaiians.

The Weight of Another Man's Burden—Doan's Backache Kidney Pills in Honolulu.

You know if you have a burden to bear.
You know where you are taxed to bear it.
You know how much trouble it gives you.

But do you know how to shake it off? The back bears more burdens than all the human organism. It aches; it pains; and is weak and lame. Therefore, it's your fault if you don't come to the rescue. Perhaps you don't know how. We would tell you, but you might doubt us. We will let a Honolulu man do it, then.

Mr. J. D. Conn, of this city, is a carpenter by trade, and is employed at the Oahu railroad. "I was troubled," says Mr. Conn, "with an aching back. The attacks occurred periodically for years, and especially if I happened to catch cold. These were also other symptoms which plainly showed that my kidneys were out of order. A short time ago I heard about Doan's Backache Kidney Pills and the wonderful things they were doing. Proceeding, then, to Hollister & Co.'s drug store, I obtained some of these. Since taking these pills there is a great improvement in me. I always keep some of the pills on hand now so as to be provided for any contingency. I feel sure if anyone troubled as I was should give Doan's Backache Kidney Pills a fair trial they will not fail to be benefited by them."

Doan's Backache Kidney Pills are sold by all druggists and storekeepers at 50 cents per box (six boxes $2.50) or will be mailed on receipt of price by the Hollister Drug Co., Honolulu, wholesale agents for the Hawaiian Islands.

THANKSGIVING PROCLAMATION.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—The President today issued the following proclamation:

"National custom, dear to the hearts of the people, calls for the setting apart of one day in each year for special thanksgiving to Almighty God for the blessings of the preceding year. This honored observance acquires with time a tenderer significance. It enriches domestic life. It summons under the family roof the absent children to glad reunion with those they love.

"Seldom has this Nation had greater cause for profound thanksgiving. No great pestilence has invaded our shores. Liberal employment waits upon labor. Abundant crops have rewarded the efforts of the husbandman. Increased comforts have come to the home. The national finances have been strengthened and public credit has been sustained and made firmer. In all branches of industry and trade there has been an unequalled degree of prosperity, while there has been a steady gain in the moral and educational growth of our national character.

"Churches and schools have flourished. American patriotism has been exalted. Those engaged in maintaining the honor of the flag with such signal success have been in a large degree spared from disaster and disease. An honorable peace has been ratified with a foreign nation with which we were at war and we are now at friendly relations with every power on earth.

"The trust which we have assumed for the benefit of the people of Cuba has faithfully advanced. There is marked progress toward the restoration of healthy industrial conditions and under wise sanitary regulations the island has enjoyed unusual exemption from the scourge of fever. The hurricane which swept over our new possession of Porto Rico, destroying the homes and property of the inhabitants, called forth the instant sympathy of the people of the United States, who were swift to respond with generous aid to the sufferers. While the insurrection still continues in the island of Luzon, business is resuming its activity, and confidence in the good purposes of the United States is being rapidly established throughout the archipelago.

"For these reasons and countless others, I, William McKinley, President of the United States, do name Thursday, the 30th day of November next, as a day of general thanksgiving and prayer, to be observed as such by all our people on this continent and in our newly acquired islands, as well as by those who may be at sea or sojourning in foreign lands, and I advise that on this day religious exercises shall be conducted in the churches or meeting places of all denominations in order that in the social features of the day its real significance may not be lost sight of, but fervent prayers may be offered to the Most High for a continuance of Divine guidance, without which man's efforts are vain, and for Divine consolation to those whose kindred and friends have sacrificed their lives for our country.

"I recommend also, that on this day, so far as may be found practicable, labor shall cease from its accustomed toil and charity abound toward the sick, the needy and the poor.

"In witness whereof, I have set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed.

"WILLIAM MCKINLEY."
